

Sensory Evaluation

Panelist name:

Sample name:

Hardness: The extent of force required to compress the product in-between the tongue and upper palate.

Extreme low	Very low	Low	Control sample	High	Very high	Extreme high

Thickness: The sensation of how thick the product is and the degree of the mass of food and saliva to hold the food together.

Extreme low	Very low	Low	Control sample	High	Very high	Extreme high

Smoothness: Extent of homogeneity of the product when rubbed between the tongue and the upper palate and taking into account bits or lumps.

Extreme low	Very low	Low	Control sample	High	Very high	Extreme high

Rate of breakdown: The rate the product takes to be broken down in the mouth (without chewing).

Extreme slow	Very slow	slow	Control sample	Fast	Very fast	Extreme fast

Adhesive: Stickiness of the product in the mouth.

Extreme low	Very low	Low	Control sample	High	Very high	Extreme high

Difficulty to swallow: Extent of swallowing difficulty after deforming the product between the tongue and the upper plate.

Extreme low	Very low	Low	Control sample	High	Very high	Extreme high