

‘Beware, I am large and dangerous’ – human listeners can be deceived by dynamic manipulation of the indexical content of agonistic dog growls

Péter Pongrácz^{1*}, Petra Dobos¹, Borbála Zsilák¹, Tamás Faragó^{1,2} & Bence Ferdinandy³

¹ Department of Ethology, ELTE Eötvös Loránd University, Budapest, Hungary

² Neuroethology of communication Lab, Department of Ethology, Budapest, Hungary

³ ELKH-ELTE Comparative Ethology Research Group, Budapest, Hungary

*Corresponding author: Péter Pongrácz (ORCID 0000-0001-5126-299X) peter.pongracz@ttk.elte.hu

ELTE Ethology Growl 1 Project

Dear Participant!

In this study you will hear pairs of dog growls. Your task will be to choose one growl from each of these pairs, which in your opinion belongs to the bigger dog.
At the beginning, there will be two examples to make everything clear.

Please use headphones during the test!
Some mobile phones may have issues.

If you don't hear the sounds you will have the opportunity to listen them again. Don't think too long; decide as quickly as you can!

The survey takes approximately 15 minutes.

Participating is voluntary, you can stop completing the questionnaire at any point. All data is handled confidentially. The questionnaire is anonymized and the data is stored in a separate, password protected database which can only be accessed by the researchers involved in the study. Personal data are not handed over for any third party, and all data is only used for research purposes. Please participate in the study only, if you are older than 18 years. If you have further questions about the questionnaire or the study, you can email us at zsilak.borbala@gmail.com.

Test sound

Name (optional)

Enter your name

Sex

Birthday

mm/dd/yyyy

Country

Have you ever lived with a dog in the same household for more than one month?

Have you ever owned a dog?

On average, how many dogs do you have interaction with in a week (Excluding your own dog)?

Enter a number

Have you ever had a bad experience with dogs? (Multiple choice: you can give multiple answers.)

- ☐ Yes, a dog bit me.
- ☐ Yes, a dog attacked me.
- ☐ Yes, a dog attacked my dog.
- ☐ Yes, I saw that a dog attacked my relative/friend/ a stranger.
- ☐ Yes, a dog frightened me.
- ☐ No, I never had.

How much do you like dogs?

I don't like them at all.

I like dogs a lot.

How do you respond to an unknown dog?

If it is possible I would avoid them.

If it is possible I would pet them.

-
- ☐ I have read the above information.
- ☐ I declare that I participate in the research voluntarily.
- ☐ I consent for my questionanire data to be used for research purposes as part of an anonymous database.

Next

Reset