

Stratifying the Shoreline: A Modified OSPAR Framework to Monitor Event-Driven Beach Litter

Supplementary Material – Images

This document presents five groups of images:

1. Official maps of the festival grounds.
2. Images of festival zones, taken during the SOMNII 2019 festival.
3. Images of items left behind by festival participants or staff, taken during the SOMNII 2019 festival.
4. Images taken during the field sampling process.
5. Images of items found during the sorting process.

1. Official maps of the festival grounds

Figure S1. Official map of SOMNII 2019 edition, immediately before the first sampling campaign. The image has been horizontally flipped so that it is oriented to the north, with the Atlantic Ocean shown on the left.

Figure S4. Left: Small food tent with CHILLOUT zone behind, in 2019. Right: Food court in 2019. Outside the sampling area.

3. Example of items left behind by festival participants or staff

Figure S5. Single-use plastic cups.

Figure S6. Single-use cardboard food containers.

Figure S7. Zip ties.

Figure S8. Left and Middle: Plastic straws. Right: Plastic coffee stirrer.

Figure S9. Left: Plastic adhesive tape. Middle and right: Electric appliances.

Figure S10. Balloons and burst balloons, from an entertainment area.

Figure S11. Left: Festival programme. Right: Festival Festival wristband

Figure S12. Merchandise from sponsoring brands.

4. Images taken during field sampling process

Figure S13. Examples of items found and collected during the Summer 2019 field campaign in the STAGE zone. From left to right: a zip tie, a plastic cup, a plastic keg seal, cardboard merchandise.

Figure S14. Charadrius alexandrinus eggs discovered in the VIP sampling zone during the Spring 2020 (left) and Spring 2021 (right) field campaigns (few weeks before the festival).

Figure S15. Examples of items found and collected during the Winter 2021 field campaign in the CHILLOUT zone.

Figure S16. Dune vegetation thriving in the festival area during the years when the event was canceled due to COVID-19. Pictures taken during the Autumn 2022 field campaign.

