

APPENDIX – For online publication only

A Pitch generation transcripts

Comedy/drama movies

User: Act as a Hollywood screenwriter.

GPT-4: Absolutely, I can assist with that! Whether you're looking for ideas for a screenplay, help with developing characters, plot advice, dialogue writing, or any other aspect of screenwriting, feel free to share what you have in mind or where you need assistance. Let's create some movie magic together!

User: Generate 10 ideas for a hit comedy/drama movie.

GPT-4: Sure! Here are ten ideas that blend comedy and drama, offering both laughs and thoughtful moments:

1. Misfit Retirement Home: A rebellious group of seniors at a high-end retirement community start a secret club to fulfill their bucket lists, leading to a series of comedic misadventures and touching moments as they pursue dreams and mend old wounds.
2. The Last Blockbuster: In a small town, the world's last Blockbuster video store becomes the unlikely battleground for a community fighting against corporate developers. The eccentric staff and local patrons devise hilarious schemes to save their beloved store, discovering the value of community and nostalgia.
3. Time-Travel Therapy: A down-and-out therapist discovers a time machine and starts offering "time-travel therapy" sessions, allowing clients to confront their past or future selves. The mishaps in time and the therapist's own journey towards self-discovery blend comedy with heartfelt moments.
4. Fake Family Reunion: To inherit a fortune, a man must prove he has a close-knit family. Desperate, he hires a troupe of actors to play his relatives at a family reunion. The charade spirals into chaos and laughter, but unexpectedly teaches them all the true meaning of family.
5. The Great Escape: A group of office workers, tired of their mundane lives, concoct a wild plan to fake a corporate retreat in order to travel to the World Cup. Their elaborate deception leads to comedic situations but also revelations about life and friendship.
6. The Accidental Politician: A comedian runs for office as a joke but wins. Thrust into the political arena, he uses humor and unorthodox methods to shake up the system, facing both hilarious mishaps and the challenge of making a real difference.

7. Swap: Two strangers, unhappy with their lives, magically swap bodies and must live as each other. Through a series of comedic trials and personal growth, they learn to appreciate their own lives and the grass isn't always greener on the other side.

8. Ghost Advisor: A struggling life coach starts receiving advice from the ghost of a legendary, no-nonsense business mogul. This odd couple must navigate their differences to achieve their goals, leading to laugh-out-loud moments and genuine growth.

9. Startup Fiasco: A group of friends with no business experience start a tech company in a quirky small town. Their ineptitude leads to absurd situations, but their journey brings the community together and redefines their definition of success.

10. The Undercover Parent: To connect with his estranged teenage daughter, a single dad goes undercover as a student at her high school. His attempts to navigate modern teen life lead to comedic situations and touching family moments.

Each of these ideas offers a rich canvas for exploring themes of family, identity, ambition, and community through a blend of humor and drama.

User: Which two of these 10 movies do you think are most likely to succeed at the box office?

GPT-4: Considering the current cinematic landscape, which favors strong character-driven stories with a balance of humor and emotional depth, the two ideas most likely to succeed at the box office are:

1. Misfit Retirement Home: This concept has a broad appeal, tapping into the growing demographic of older moviegoers while also attracting younger audiences with its humor and universal themes of pursuing dreams and reconciliation. Films like "The Best Exotic Marigold Hotel" have shown there's a market for stories that focus on the lives and adventures of seniors, and the comedic element of a secret club adds a fresh twist. The potential for an ensemble cast of beloved actors can also draw significant attention and box office numbers.

2. The Accidental Politician: This movie idea combines political satire with personal growth, a formula that can resonate well in today's climate. The concept of an outsider shaking up the political world through humor and heart has the potential to captivate audiences seeking both escapism and a reflection of real-world issues. Films like "Dave" and "The Distinguished Gentleman" have proven the appeal of comedic takes on politics, and with a well-crafted script that balances laughs with poignant moments, this could be a hit. The key to its success would be timely and clever commentary, appealing to a wide audience with its underdog story.

Both ideas offer opportunities for memorable characters, situational comedy, and heartfelt moments, making them strong contenders for box office success. They also provide the flexibility to cast a range of talented actors, further increasing their appeal.

User: Who should be the director and top four billed cast in each movie?

GPT-4: For these movie concepts to truly shine and maximize their box office potential, pairing them with the right director and a stellar cast is crucial. Here are my suggestions:

Misfit Retirement Home

Director: Nancy Meyers - Known for her ability to blend humor with heartwarming stories, Meyers could bring out the nuanced emotions and comedic elements of a diverse group of seniors living life to the fullest.

Top Four Billed Cast:

1. Meryl Streep - As the rebellious leader of the group, Streep can effortlessly blend comedy with drama, providing depth and charisma to the role.
2. Morgan Freeman - Playing a wise yet adventurous senior, Freeman can bring both gravitas and humor, acting as the moral compass and occasional instigator of the group's escapades.
3. Helen Mirren - As a classy, spirited member with a hidden wild side, Mirren would offer elegance, wit, and surprises, driving much of the group's dynamics.
4. Robert De Niro - As a gruff exterior with a soft heart member, De Niro can showcase his comedic timing while delivering poignant moments of vulnerability.

The Accidental Politician

Director: Adam McKay - With his experience in creating politically charged comedies that also offer a sharp critique of societal norms, McKay would be the perfect fit to balance the humor with the underlying message of the film.

Top Four Billed Cast:

1. Ryan Reynolds - As the comedian turned politician, Reynolds' quick wit and charm can easily carry the film's comedic aspirations while handling its dramatic moments with sincerity.
2. Tina Fey - Playing the campaign manager or a political advisor, Fey could provide a smart, humorous counterbalance to Reynolds, offering sharp dialogue and a strong presence.

3. Octavia Spencer - As a skeptical but heartwarming local journalist, Spencer would add depth and a grounding perspective to the unfolding political circus, delivering both laughs and insightful moments.

4. Hugh Jackman - As a political rival or an unlikely ally, Jackman's versatility would allow him to play a complex character that challenges and eventually befriends Reynolds' character, adding layers to the comedic and dramatic narrative.

These director and cast choices are aimed at maximizing the potential of each film, drawing on the strengths of each actor to bring the characters to life and ensuring the director's vision aligns with the tone of the story.

User: Considering the director and top four billed cast, generate a rich synopsis for each prospective movie designed to generate buzz among audiences.

GPT-4:

Misfit Retirement Home:

In the scenic, seemingly tranquil Sunnyside Meadows Retirement Community, a spirited rebellion is brewing. Led by the indomitable Eleanor Harper (Meryl Streep), a group of seniors, including the wise and adventurous Arthur King (Morgan Freeman), the elegant and vivacious Lady Victoria (Helen Mirren), and the gruff-hearted former boxer Jack Marlowe (Robert De Niro), form the secret "Bucket List Club." Tired of the monotonous, rule-bound life, they set out to complete a list of dreams they never pursued.

Each adventure is more daring and hilarious than the last, from a midnight escape to see a rock concert to an impromptu road trip in search of a long-lost love. But as their escapades grow bolder, they inadvertently attract the attention of the community's strict director, Mrs. Hawthorne, who is determined to put an end to their antics.

Directed by Nancy Meyers, "Misfit Retirement Home" weaves a heartwarming tapestry of friendship, love, and the idea that it's never too late to live your dreams. With a powerhouse cast that brings laughter, tears, and an indomitable spirit to the screen, this film promises to be an unforgettable journey through the golden years, proving age is just a number when it comes to adventure.

The Accidental Politician:

When charismatic but struggling comedian Jack Harper (Ryan Reynolds) jokingly runs for mayor of his hometown, the last thing he expects is to win. Thrust into the political arena with no experience but plenty of opinions, Jack must navigate the treacherous waters of local politics with the help of his savvy but skeptical campaign manager, Liz Bennett (Tina Fey), and the insightful local journalist, Samantha Greene (Octavia Spencer), who sees through his facade but senses his potential for real change.

As Jack's unorthodox methods begin to shake up the status quo, he faces opposition from the seasoned and cunning incumbent, Richard Grant (Hugh Jackman), who underestimates the power of humor and heart in bringing about change. From viral gaffes to heartfelt moments on the campaign trail, Jack transforms from a political joke to a beacon of hope for his community, challenging everyone to rethink the power of leadership and the importance of laughter.

Directed by Adam McKay, "The Accidental Politician" is a hilarious, thought-provoking comedy-drama that blends sharp wit with poignant moments of discovery. With a stellar cast delivering performances that oscillate between uproarious and deeply moving, this film captures the absurdity and beauty of pursuing change, one laugh at a time.

These synopses are designed to intrigue and excite audiences, promising a blend of humor, heart, and a touch of the unexpected, making both "Misfit Retirement Home" and "The Accidental Politician" standout offerings in the comedy-drama genre.

User: What would the running time and Motion Picture Association film rating be for each movie?

GPT-4:

Misfit Retirement Home

Running Time: Approximately 120 minutes - This length allows for the development of multiple character arcs and the exploration of various comedic adventures, while still maintaining a pace that keeps the audience engaged.

MPA Rating: PG-13 - Given the film's themes of rebellion, adventure, and mild suggestive content related to the seniors' escapades, a PG-13 rating is appropriate. It allows for comedic freedom while making the movie accessible to a broader audience, including teenagers who might enjoy the intergenerational humor and themes of living life to the fullest.

The Accidental Politician

Running Time: Approximately 115 minutes - A slightly shorter runtime suits this story's faster pace, focusing on the political campaign, Jack's personal growth, and the comedic situations that arise from his inexperience. This length ensures the narrative remains tight and engaging throughout.

MPA Rating: PG-13 - The film's content, including political satire, some comedic mishaps, and light adult themes, fits a PG-13 rating well. It allows for witty, insightful humor and the exploration of themes relevant to a teen and adult audience, such as political awareness and the importance of integrity, without venturing into R-rated territory.

Both films strike a balance between appealing to a wide audience and exploring their themes with the necessary depth and nuance. The chosen running times and ratings aim to maximize audience reach while staying true to the stories' comedic and dramatic elements.

Action/thriller movies

User: Act as a Hollywood screenwriter.

GPT-4: Absolutely, I'd love to dive into that role! Whether you're looking for ideas for a new screenplay, need help with dialogue, character development, plot structure, or anything else related to screenwriting, feel free to ask. What's on your mind?

User: Generate 10 ideas for a hit action/thriller movie.

GPT-4:

1. Cyber Heist: In a near-future world, a group of elite hackers are recruited by a mysterious benefactor to steal a digital asset that could change the balance of power in the world. But as they delve deeper, they realize they're pawns in a much larger game, involving AI surveillance and global espionage.
2. The Last Sentinel: In a post-apocalyptic Earth, the last surviving member of an elite military unit must navigate through dangerous lands to activate a network of satellites that could restore the planet. Battling rogue militias and natural disasters, the journey tests the limits of human endurance and ingenuity.
3. Shadow Protocol: A disgraced intelligence officer is given a chance for redemption when a classified operation to stop a global terrorist network goes awry. With no support and a bounty on his head, he must use his skills to thwart a catastrophic attack while unraveling a conspiracy within his own agency.
4. Mind Games: A detective with the ability to enter people's memories is on the trail of a serial killer who leaves no physical evidence behind. As the detective gets closer, the line between reality and memory blurs, leading to a shocking revelation about the nature of consciousness and guilt.
5. Rogue Element: An environmental scientist discovers a natural phenomenon that could solve the world's energy crisis but becomes the target of a ruthless corporation that wants to exploit the discovery. The scientist teams up with a renegade ex-military operative to protect the discovery and bring the corporation down.
6. The Ghost Fleet: When a fleet of ghost ships appears off the coast of major global ports, disrupting world trade, an international task force led by a seasoned naval commander is sent to investigate. They uncover a network of cyber-terrorists planning to launch a synchronized global attack from the sea.
7. Time Fracture: After a failed experiment creates rifts in time, a pilot with a troubled past is recruited for a mission to navigate these rifts and prevent a future catastrophe. Teaming up with a historian and a physicist, they race against time as they're chased by a mysterious organization with dark intentions.

8. Blackout Zone: A city is plunged into darkness after a massive EMP attack, and chaos ensues. A small group of survivors, led by a former special forces operative, must navigate the anarchy to reach a safe zone, discovering along the way that the blackout was only the beginning of a larger, more sinister plot.

9. The Artifact: An ancient artifact discovered in the Antarctic holds the key to limitless energy but also an alien virus. A team of scientists and soldiers must protect the artifact from falling into the wrong hands while battling the infected and uncovering the truth about human origins.

10. Eclipse Protocol: A covert operative uncovers a conspiracy involving a secret society that has the ability to manipulate global events to their benefit. As she delves deeper into their operations, she finds herself caught in a deadly game of cat and mouse, with the fate of the world hanging in the balance.

Each of these ideas combines elements of action and thriller genres, with a mix of technology, mystery, global stakes, and personal redemption, offering ample opportunities for visually stunning sequences, deep character development, and gripping narratives.

User: Which two of these 10 movies do you think are most likely to succeed at the box office?

GPT-4: Selecting the two movies that are most likely to succeed at the box office involves considering current trends, audience preferences, and the unique elements that make a movie stand out. Based on these factors, Cyber Heist and The Ghost Fleet seem to hold significant potential for box office success. Here's why:

1. Cyber Heist: "Cyber Heist" taps into the current global fascination with cybersecurity, hacking, and the digital age's shadowy aspects. The concept of an elite hacker team tasked with stealing a game-changing digital asset offers a mix of suspense, action, and cutting-edge technology that resonates with audiences who are increasingly aware of the power and dangers of the digital world. This storyline not only provides thrilling action sequences and complex puzzles for the characters to solve but also raises questions about privacy, surveillance, and the ethical use of technology. The theme of being pawns in a larger game introduces an intriguing twist that can add depth to the narrative, making it not just a visual spectacle but also a thought-provoking exploration of contemporary issues. The success of films like "The Matrix" and "Inception" has shown that audiences appreciate stories that combine action with a deeper reflection on technology's impact on society, suggesting "Cyber Heist" could similarly capture the public's imagination.

2. The Ghost Fleet: "The Ghost Fleet" combines elements of mystery, technology, and geopolitical intrigue, making it another strong contender for box office success. The idea of a fleet of ghost ships disrupting global trade taps into current concerns about cybersecurity and terrorism while offering a visually stunning and unique setting for a film. The narrative promises a blend of high-seas adventure, naval strategy, and cyber warfare, appealing to fans of military thrillers and action movies. The inclusion of an international task force adds an element of global unity and cooperation against a common enemy, a theme that resonates with many viewers in today's interconnected world. Films that combine traditional action elements with a modern technological twist, such as "Skyfall" and "Captain Phillips," have performed well at the box office, indicating that "The Ghost Fleet" could appeal to a broad audience by mixing familiar action tropes with contemporary concerns.

Both concepts leverage a blend of timely themes, high stakes, dynamic characters, and the potential for visually stunning scenes. They tap into current fears, fascinations, and the universal appeal of seeing individuals or teams facing off against seemingly insurmountable odds. Additionally, both stories offer opportunities for sequels or franchise expansions, which can be particularly attractive from a box office perspective.

User: Who should be the director and top four billed cast in each movie?

GPT-4: For Cyber Heist and The Ghost Fleet, envisioning the ideal director and top-billed cast involves aligning with the themes, tone, and style of each movie. Here are my suggestions:

Cyber Heist

Director: Denis Villeneuve - Known for his adept handling of complex narratives and visually stunning films with a deep emphasis on character-driven stories, Villeneuve would bring a thoughtful, tense atmosphere to the cyber-thriller genre.

Top Four Billed Cast:

1. John David Washington as the lead hacker - With a compelling on-screen presence, Washington can bring intensity and depth to the role of a brilliant but conflicted hacker.
2. Alicia Vikander as the cybersecurity expert - Vikander's versatility and intensity would be perfect for portraying a highly skilled, determined professional caught in a web of espionage.
3. Riz Ahmed as the mysterious benefactor - Ahmed can deliver complexity and ambiguity, essential for a character whose motives are unclear.

4. Charlize Theron as the antagonist - Theron has proven her ability to portray formidable and nuanced villains, bringing gravitas and intensity to the role of a powerful figure behind the digital curtain.

The Ghost Fleet

Director: Christopher Nolan - Nolan's mastery in crafting intricate plots combined with his experience in delivering large-scale cinematic experiences would make him an excellent choice for directing a story that intertwines mystery, action, and a global threat.

Top Four Billed Cast:

1. Emily Blunt as the seasoned naval commander - Blunt has the range and physicality to embody a strong, strategic leader facing an unprecedented challenge.

2. Idris Elba as the head of the international task force - Elba's commanding presence and depth of character would lend credibility and gravitas to the role of a leader uniting global forces against a common enemy.

3. Daniel Kaluuya as the tech specialist - Kaluuya can bring intensity and intelligence to the role, essential for a character who's key to unraveling the cyber-terrorism plot.

4. Brie Larson as the marine biologist - Larson's ability to portray determination and resilience would be ideal for a character whose expertise becomes crucial in understanding the threat posed by the ghost fleet.

These director and cast choices aim to leverage their strengths and audience appeal to bring each movie's unique elements to life, ensuring a compelling and engaging cinematic experience.

User: Considering the director and top four billed cast, generate a rich synopsis for each prospective movie designed to generate buzz among audiences.

GPT-4:

Cyber Heist:

In the not-too-distant future, the world's balance of power teeters on the edge of a digital precipice. Cyber Heist follows Alex Mercer (John David Washington), a former government hacker turned rogue, who is mysteriously recruited for a mission that promises to erase his criminal past. Teaming up with cybersecurity expert, Lena Kovalenko (Alicia Vikander), they're tasked with infiltrating an unbreachable digital fortress to steal a piece of technology capable of altering the global power structure. As they delve deeper into the digital abyss, they are confronted by the enigmatic figure known only as The Architect (Riz Ahmed), who reveals the true nature of their mission: to prevent a digital apocalypse orchestrated by a global tech conglomerate led by the ruthless Elizabeth Strand (Charlize Theron). With the lines between ally and enemy blurred, Mercer and Kovalenko must navigate a labyrinth of deception and digital warfare, challenging their skills and morals.

Denis Villeneuve crafts a visually stunning cyber-thriller that explores themes of freedom, surveillance, and the ethics of artificial intelligence. Cyber Heist is a high-stakes journey through the digital underworld, where every choice could either save humanity or plunge it into chaos. The film promises an intense, thought-provoking experience, combining Villeneuve's atmospheric direction with powerhouse performances from its lead cast.

The Ghost Fleet:

When a series of ghost ships appear across the globe, disrupting international trade and sparking global panic, the world turns to an unlikely group of heroes. The Ghost Fleet centers on Commander Sarah Wallace (Emily Blunt), a decorated naval officer chosen to lead an elite international task force, including the charismatic but secretive Agent Jameson (Idris Elba), tech genius Marcus Grant (Daniel Kaluuya), and determined marine biologist Dr. Rachel Kane (Brie Larson).

Their mission: to uncover the origin of the ghost ships and stop the cyber-terrorists threatening to launch a synchronized attack on the world's digital infrastructure. As they journey from the icy waters of the Arctic to the stormy seas of the South Pacific, they uncover a conspiracy that could bring the world to its knees.

Christopher Nolan weaves a tale of suspense and mystery, blending high-octane maritime action with intricate storytelling. The film explores the themes of unity against global threats, the nature of leadership, and humanity's reliance on technology. With Nolan's signature non-linear storytelling and visually spectacular set pieces, The Ghost Fleet is a cinematic voyage that promises to thrill, challenge, and inspire audiences around the world.

Both synopses aim to spark interest and anticipation, highlighting the unique elements of each movie while promising a blend of action, intrigue, and depth that would appeal to a wide audience.

User: What would the running time and Motion Picture Association film rating be for each movie?

GPT-4:

Given the scope and content of each film as described, here are the proposed running times and Motion Picture Association (MPA) film ratings:

Cyber Heist

Running Time: Approximately 135 minutes. This length allows for a detailed exploration of the complex digital world the film is set in, character development, and the intricate plot without rushing the pacing or omitting crucial details.

MPA Rating: PG-13. Considering the film's focus on cyber warfare, espionage, and digital crimes, it's likely to contain intense scenes of action/violence and some thematic elements that may not be suitable for children under 13. The rating reflects the film's appeal to a wide audience, including teenagers and adults, while acknowledging its mature themes.

The Ghost Fleet

Running Time: Approximately 145 minutes. The global scale of the narrative, combined with the need for character development, action sequences, and the unraveling of the mystery, justifies a slightly longer runtime. This ensures that the story's depth and breadth are fully realized on screen.

MPA Rating: PG-13. Similar to Cyber Heist, The Ghost Fleet would contain intense action sequences, thematic material related to global threats and cyber-terrorism, and brief strong language. The PG-13 rating would make it accessible to a broad audience, including families with older children, while still accommodating the film's serious and complex themes.

Both films, with their respective running times and ratings, are designed to maximize audience engagement and accessibility, ensuring that they can reach a wide demographic without compromising on the storytelling or thematic depth.

B Screenshots of the survey interface

Read the following film synopsis and refer to the director and cast information below:

The Accidental Politician

2024 • PG-13 • 1h 55m

Comedy Drama

When charismatic but struggling comedian Jack Harper (Ryan Reynolds) jokingly runs for mayor of his hometown, the last thing he expects is to win. Thrust into the political arena with no experience but plenty of opinions, Jack must navigate the treacherous waters of local politics with the help of his savvy but skeptical campaign manager, Liz Bennett (Tina Fey), and the insightful local journalist, Samantha Greene (Octavia Spencer), who sees through his facade but senses his potential for real change.

As Jack's unorthodox methods begin to shake up the status quo, he faces opposition from the seasoned and cunning incumbent, Richard Grant (Hugh Jackman), who underestimates the power of humor and heart in bringing about change. From viral gaffes to heartfelt moments on the campaign trail, Jack transforms from a political joke to a beacon of hope for his community, challenging everyone to rethink the power of leadership and the importance of laughter.

Directed by Adam McKay, "The Accidental Politician" is a hilarious, thought-provoking comedy-drama that blends sharp wit with poignant moments of discovery. With a stellar cast delivering performances that oscillate between uproarious and deeply moving, this film captures the absurdity and beauty of pursuing change, one laugh at a time.

Director Adam McKay

Stars Ryan Reynolds • Tina Fey • Octavia Spencer • Hugh Jackman

Read the following film synopsis and refer to the director and cast information below:

Cyber Heist

2024 • PG-13 • 2h 15m

Action

Thriller

In the not-too-distant future, the world's balance of power teeters on the edge of a digital precipice. Cyber Heist follows Alex Mercer (John David Washington), a former government hacker turned rogue, who is mysteriously recruited for a mission that promises to erase his criminal past. Teaming up with cybersecurity expert, Lena Kovalenko (Alicia Vikander), they're tasked with infiltrating an unbreachable digital fortress to steal a piece of technology capable of altering the global power structure.

As they delve deeper into the digital abyss, they are confronted by the enigmatic figure known only as The Architect (Riz Ahmed), who reveals the true nature of their mission: to prevent a digital apocalypse orchestrated by a global tech conglomerate led by the ruthless Elizabeth Strand (Charlize Theron). With the lines between ally and enemy blurred, Mercer and Kovalenko must navigate a labyrinth of deception and digital warfare, challenging their skills and morals.

Denis Villeneuve crafts a visually stunning cyber-thriller that explores themes of freedom, surveillance, and the ethics of artificial intelligence. Cyber Heist is a high-stakes journey through the digital underworld, where every choice could either save humanity or plunge it into chaos. The film promises an intense, thought-provoking experience, combining Villeneuve's atmospheric direction with powerhouse performances from its lead cast.

Director Denis Villeneuve

Stars John David Washington • Alicia Vikander • Riz Ahmed
• Charlize Theron

Read the following film synopsis and refer to the director and cast information below:

Misfit Retirement Home

2024 • PG-13 • 2h

Comedy

Drama

In the scenic, seemingly tranquil Sunnyside Meadows Retirement Community, a spirited rebellion is brewing. Led by the indomitable Eleanor Harper (Meryl Streep), a group of seniors, including the wise and adventurous Arthur King (Morgan Freeman), the elegant and vivacious Lady Victoria (Helen Mirren), and the gruff-hearted former boxer Jack Marlowe (Robert De Niro), form the secret "Bucket List Club." Tired of the monotonous, rule-bound life, they set out to complete a list of dreams they never pursued.

Each adventure is more daring and hilarious than the last, from a midnight escape to see a rock concert to an impromptu road trip in search of a long-lost love. But as their escapades grow bolder, they inadvertently attract the attention of the community's strict director, Mrs. Hawthorne, who is determined to put an end to their antics.

Directed by Nancy Meyers, "Misfit Retirement Home" weaves a heartwarming tapestry of friendship, love, and the idea that it's never too late to live your dreams. With a powerhouse cast that brings laughter, tears, and an indomitable spirit to the screen, this film promises to be an unforgettable journey through the golden years, proving age is just a number when it comes to adventure.

Director Nancy Meyers

Stars Meryl Streep • Morgan Freeman • Helen Mirren • Robert De Niro

Read the following film synopsis and refer to the director and cast information below:

The Ghost Fleet

2024 • PG-13 • 2h 25m

Action Thriller

When a series of ghost ships appear across the globe, disrupting international trade and sparking global panic, the world turns to an unlikely group of heroes. The Ghost Fleet centers on Commander Sarah Wallace (Emily Blunt), a decorated naval officer chosen to lead an elite international task force, including the charismatic but secretive Agent Jameson (Idris Elba), tech genius Marcus Grant (Daniel Kaluuya), and determined marine biologist Dr. Rachel Kane (Brie Larson).

Their mission: to uncover the origin of the ghost ships and stop the cyber-terrorists threatening to launch a synchronized attack on the world's digital infrastructure. As they journey from the icy waters of the Arctic to the stormy seas of the South Pacific, they uncover a conspiracy that could bring the world to its knees.

Christopher Nolan weaves a tale of suspense and mystery, blending high-octane maritime action with intricate storytelling. The film explores the themes of unity against global threats, the nature of leadership, and humanity's reliance on technology. With Nolan's signature non-linear storytelling and visually spectacular set pieces, The Ghost Fleet is a cinematic voyage that promises to thrill, challenge, and inspire audiences around the world.

Director Christopher Nolan

Stars Emily Blunt • Idris Elba • Daniel Kaluuya • Brie Larson

Based on the information provided, how would you rate your anticipated enjoyment of watching this film on a scale from 0 to 10, where 10 is the highest rating? You can think of this like an IMDb rating if you are familiar with this metric. (Note: you can use half-star increments in your rating)

Your rating

Based on the same scale, predict the average anticipated enjoyment rating from all survey participants who were provided with the same information about this film. (Note: you can use half-star increments in your rating)

If you get the correct answer within 0.5 of this average, you will be rewarded £0.25. You will receive your payment after all survey responses have been received and the average has been calculated. If you do not receive a payment, your answer was incorrect.

Guess of others rating

Based on the information provided, is this a film that you would potentially like to watch?

Yes	☐
No	☐

Next >>

Where would you be most likely to watch "Cyber Heist"?

At a movie theater (such as AMC or Regal Cinemas)

- First point of release, also known as the 'theatrical release'
- Cost of this alternative is the price of a regular ticket at your local movie theater (approximately US$10-US$15)

☐

At home using an online rental service (such as Google Play or Amazon Prime)

- Approximately three months after theatrical release
- Cost of this alternative is the average price of a 48-hour rental pass using your preferred service (approximately US$5-US$7)

☐

At home on a subscription streaming service (such as Netflix or Disney+)

- Approximately six months after theatrical release
- No cost assuming you have access to the relevant subscription service (or can access via a friend or relative's account)

☐

At home on a broadcast TV network (such as NBC or CBS)

- Approximately 12 months after theatrical release
- No cost but approximately 30 minutes of advertising breaks will be shown during the film

☐

Next >>