

SUPPLEMENTARY MATERIALS

Title: Delayed transition to 20-valent pneumococcal conjugate vaccine in pediatric national immunization programs: Forgone public health and economic benefit

Authors: Johnna Perdrizet,<sup>1</sup> An Ta,<sup>2</sup> Liping Huang,<sup>3</sup> Warisa Wannaadisai,<sup>4</sup> Aleksandar Ilic,<sup>4</sup> Kyla Hayford,<sup>5</sup> Ayman Sabra<sup>6</sup>

Affiliations: 1. Global Health Economics & Outcomes Research, Pfizer Canada, Kirkland, Quebec, Canada; 2. Cytel, United Kingdom; 3. Global Health Economics & Outcomes Research, Pfizer Inc, Collegeville, PA, United States; 4. Pfizer UK, Tadworth, United Kingdom; 5. Medical Development & Scientific/Clinical Affairs, Pfizer Vaccines, Collegeville, PA, United States; 6. Medical Affairs, Vaccines, Antivirals and Evidence Generation, Pfizer, Paris, France

Corresponding author: Johnna Perdrizet, Johnna.Perdrizet@pfizer.com

Table S1. Literature search data sources

|                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
|----------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Electronic databases | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• MEDLINE and MEDLINE In-process (via Ovid)</li><li>• Embase (via Ovid)</li><li>• EBM Reviews: DARE (via Ovid)</li><li>• EconLit (via Ovid)</li></ul>                                                                                                                                         |
| Conferences          | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• All conferences indexed via Embase</li><li>• Hand-searching the proceedings of the following conferences and editions not indexed in Embase:<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>○ ISPOR: annual meeting; Europe annual; Asia Pacific</li><li>○ ESPID</li><li>○ ESCMID</li></ul></li></ul> |
| Date limit           | January 1, 2020–June 28, 2024                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Other limits         | Language: English                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
|                      | Access: coauthors have access to analyses/models                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |

Abbreviations: DARE, Database of Abstracts of Reviews of Effects; EBM, Evidence-Based Medicine; ESCMID, Congress of the European Society of Clinical Microbiology and Infectious Diseases; ESPID, European Society for Paediatric Infectious Diseases; ISPOR, The Professional Society for Health Economics and Outcomes Research.