

Supplementary Material

Time-dependent prognostic value of the sCD25-to-ferritin ratio in chronic active Epstein–Barr virus-associated hemophagocytic lymphohistiocytosis

Yingxin Zhu^a, Tiankuo Gao^a, Xinyang Zhang^a, Chen Gong^a, Chun Yang^a, Xuefeng He^{b*}, Yue Song^{a*}

Affiliations

^a Beijing Anzhen Hospital Affiliated to Capital Medical University, Beijing, China, 100029

^b The First Affiliated Hospital of Soochow University, Suzhou, China, 215006

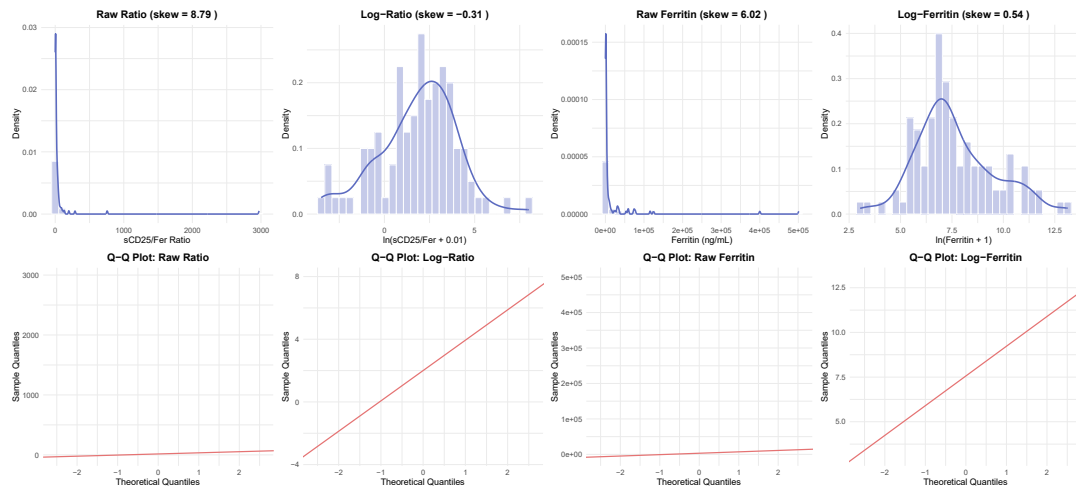

Corresponding authors

Xuefeng He, The First Affiliated Hospital of Soochow University, Suzhou, China, 215006.

Email: hexuefeng@suda.edu.cn

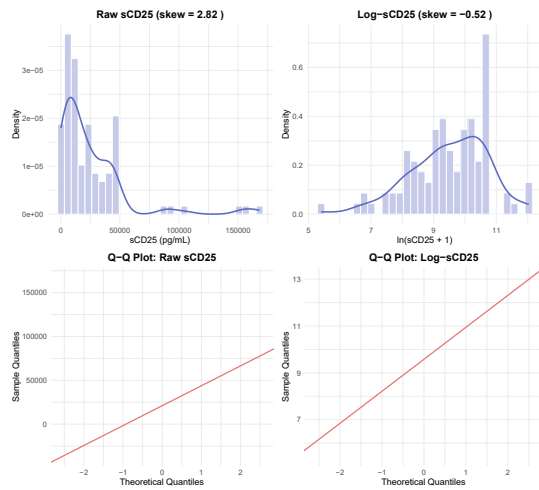

Yue Song, Beijing Anzhen Hospital Affiliated to Capital Medical University, Beijing, China,

100029. Email: xueqifeng1992@163.com

A

B

C

Supplementary Figure 1. Distribution of biomarkers before and after natural-log transformation. Density plots (upper panels) and Q-Q plots (lower panels) illustrate the distribution of (A) sCD25/ferritin ratio, (B) ferritin, and (C) sCD25 in their raw (left panels) and log-transformed (right panels) forms. Skewness values are indicated in the title of each plot.