Introduction.

Good morning/afternoon and thank you for agreeing to participate in this key informant interview. My name is Isaac Teboah, and I am conducting this interview on behalf of the Department of Children under the Ministry of Gender, Children and Social Protection (MoGCSP).

As part of our routine national data-collection exercise toward the preparation of Ghana's State Party Report to the UN Committee on the Rights of the Child, we are gathering information on the situation, protection concerns, and lived experiences of child beggars and street-connected children in Accra and other urban centres.

Your insights as a key informant are very important for helping us understand:

1. The drivers and patterns of child begging and child migration,
2. The daily activities, risks, and living conditions of child beggars,
3. Existing child protection responses and gaps, and
4. What can be done to strengthen protection, support, rehabilitation, and prevention interventions.

All information provided will be treated strictly confidential and used solely for the national reporting and policy development process. Your participation is voluntary, and you may decline to answer any question or withdraw at any time. There are no right or wrong answers, we are interested in your experiences, observations, and professional insights.
