

Supplementary Fig1. Directed acyclic graph (DAG) used in study. Each arrow represents a possible cause-and-effect relationship. Covariates included in final model are in yellow. The association we studied (gray boxes) between neurodevelopmental diagnosis and blood plasma metabolite levels is represented with a question mark.

