Dear XXXXXXXXXXXXX,

In 20XX, you generously agreed to provide a sample of your DNA from blood/saliva (delete sample type NA to the participant) to the lifepool project.

When you gave your consent for us to use your DNA in genetic research, we let you know that if a research result relevant to your health was found, we would write to you and ask if you would like to learn more about that health information.

We now have some results from the research that may have relevance for your health and/or your family. If you would like to learn more, please contact XXXX, a member of the clinical genetic counseling team at the Peter Mac (Parkville) Familial Cancer Clinic, either by telephone on XXXX XXXX or by email at XXX@petermac.org. We will provide expert advisors to explain the nature of this health information and make sure you understand all the benefits and risks of learning more about this information.

In the meantime, XXXX will telephone you in 2 weeks time to make sure you received this letter and to answer any questions you may have about these results, but please feel free to ring her on XXXX XXXX before that time if you wish.

Your support of the lifepool project is greatly appreciated. We are glad that the project has provided research data that may be helpful to improving your health.

Yours Sincerely,

Manager
