

Title: Supplementary Data 1.

Description: Characteristics of all studies included in the MetaMEx database.

Transcriptomic studies in human skeletal muscle were collected from the GEO repository.

The associated publications were combed for clinical characteristics of the study populations, exercise type, time and duration and transcriptomic platform and method used.
