
Supplementary information

Endogenous self-peptides guard immune privilege of the central nervous system

In the format provided by the authors and unedited

Related to Extended Data Fig. 9a

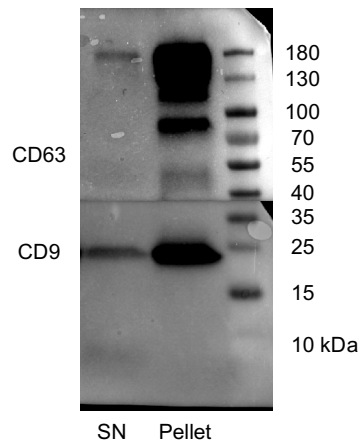

Figure 1: Original immunoblot for supernatant (SN) and pellet fractions after ultracentrifugation of extracellular vesicles isolated from a dendritic cell line. Blots were probed for both CD9 and CD63, markers of extracellular vesicles.