

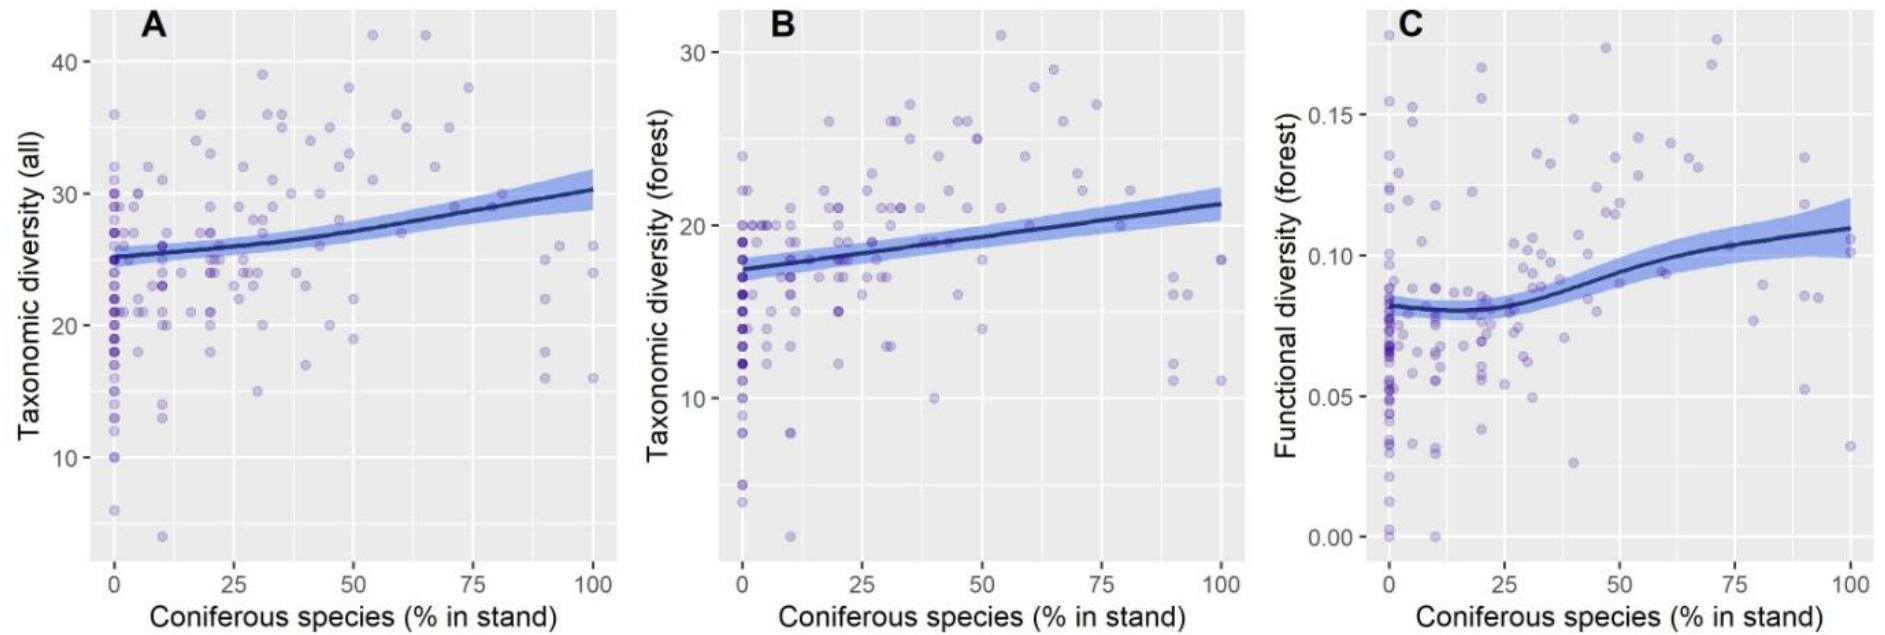

Figure S3. Response curves, derived from General Additive Modelling, showing the relationship between taxonomic and functional diversity (calculated for all of the bird species and forest specialist group) and percentage of coniferous species within a forest stand.