

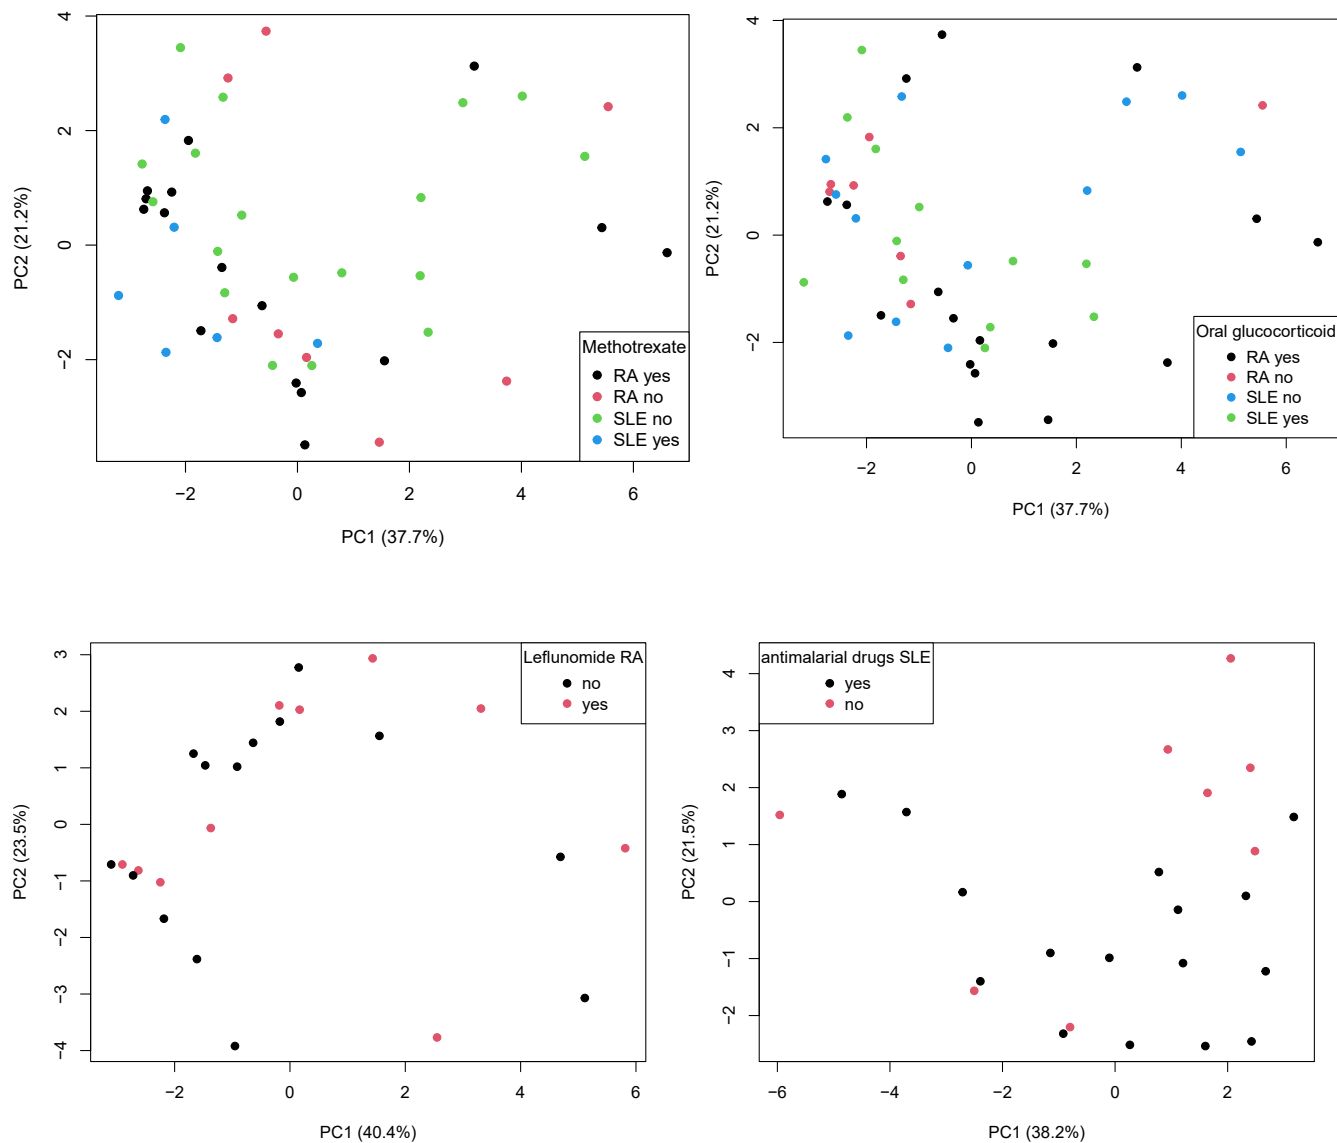

Figure S1. Principal component analysis showing the two-dimensional distribution of the RA and SLE patients according to the levels of the 17 cytokines measured. The different plots show the effect of the drug treatments in the two-dimensional distribution of the patients.