

Supplementary Figure S1. Amplification results obtained using the specific Gaeumannomyces tritici primer. The gel image corresponds to the same PCR result shown as Figure 1 in the main manuscript. After the 50 bp DNA ladder, two replicates of the pathogenic fungus produced an amplification fragment of approximately 93 bp. The third well after the ladder represents another fungal isolate.

