

For the CtpA and PA1198 immunoblots

The ECL only file was used to generate the figure.

The ECL+visual overlay image is also included because it also shows the visual appearance/size of the membrane piece used for each western.

Protein

This single membrane was used for both the CtpA immunoblot (top section) and PA1198 immunoblot (bottom section). Therefore, a single section as indicated was used from this membrane to show protein loading in the figure.
