

Supplementary Information

Y-chromosome diversity suggests southern origin and Paleolithic backwave migration of Austro-Asiatic speakers from eastern Asia to the Indian subcontinent

Xiaoming Zhang^{1,9}, Shiyu Liao^{2,9}, Xuebin Qi^{1,9}, Jiewei Liu^{1,8}, Jatupol Kampuansai⁵, Hui Zhang¹, Zhaohui Yang^{3,4}, Bun Serey⁶, Tuot Sovannary⁶, Long Bunnath⁶, Hong Seang Aun⁶, Ham Samnom⁷, Daoroong Kangwanpong⁵, Hong Shi^{3,4*} & Bing Su^{1,4*}

Figure S1. Network of mtDNA lineages under the macro-haplogroup M in East Asia and South Asia populations. The mtDNA data is collected from the references in supplementary Table S7.

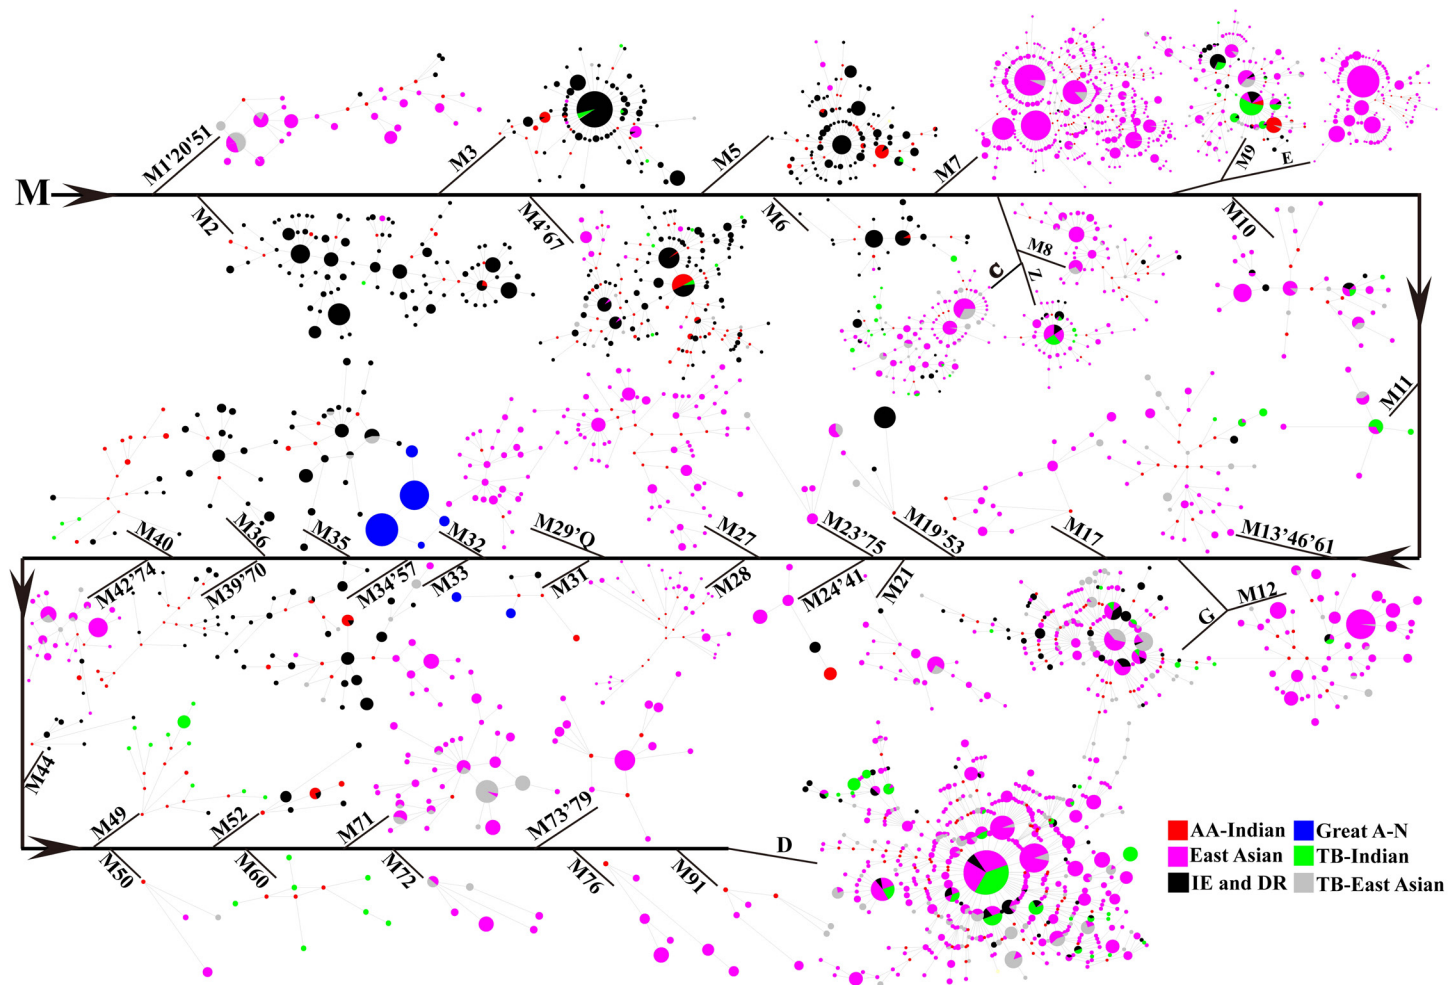

Figure S2. Network of mtDNA lineages under the macro-haplogroup N in East Asia and South Asia populations. The mtDNA data is collected from the references in supplementary Table S7.

