

A

PCA plot showing gene expression data. The plot is defined by PC1 (horizontal axis) and PC2 (vertical axis). The data points are clustered into four groups, each represented by a different color and shape:

- Proliferative (Red circles and squares)
- Differentiated (Purple circles and squares)
- Mesenchymal (Blue circles and squares)
- Immunoreactive (Yellow circles and squares)

