

Footnote: A larger plot area is representative of a more pragmatic trial design; a smaller plot more representative of an explanatory design