

The predicted probabilities were calculated based on Model 4, while holding covariates in the model constant at their means.