

Forced Isolation by Invisible Barriers:
International Survey on the Effects of Fragrances on the Quality of Life
 -Supplementary material

Supplement 4:

Title: Offending reactions

Legend: More than three quarters of survey participants (77.92%) answered to the facultative question, whether they were confronted with offending reactions due to their fragrance sensitivity in seven different environments (multiple choice question with five answer options, multiple answers were possible, answers in %). Details for countries with > 50 participants can be found in the separate country reports.

