

Dear Editor-in-Chief

I have submitted my manuscript titled "Clinical decision-making skill in Diagnosing of Oral Diseases among Medical interns"

I would be highly grateful if you could kindly consider my application for the waiver in your valuable journal.

our country (Iran) is not mention as one of the countries of the APC list (low or middle income countries) but the economic status of our country is not stable and I cannot receive any other financial aids from other resources or university either.

I and my co-authors are all from University of Medical Sciences, and currently regarding the economic national situation they are no available funding to support and help us in paying publication fees. Also there has been a sudden fall in our money and the currency market is unstable. Not only it is currently very difficult for us to pay the fees but also so difficult to transfer any amount of money to other countries. If this article could be accepted after passing the review process, I would be highly grateful if you could kindly waive the publication fees and consider our publication charges as free.

I appreciate all your kind assistance and help.

Sincerely

Maryam Basirat

Associate professor of oral and maxillofacial medicine, Guilan university of Medical sciences, Rasht, Iran, <http://orcid.org/0000-0003-1671-7279>