

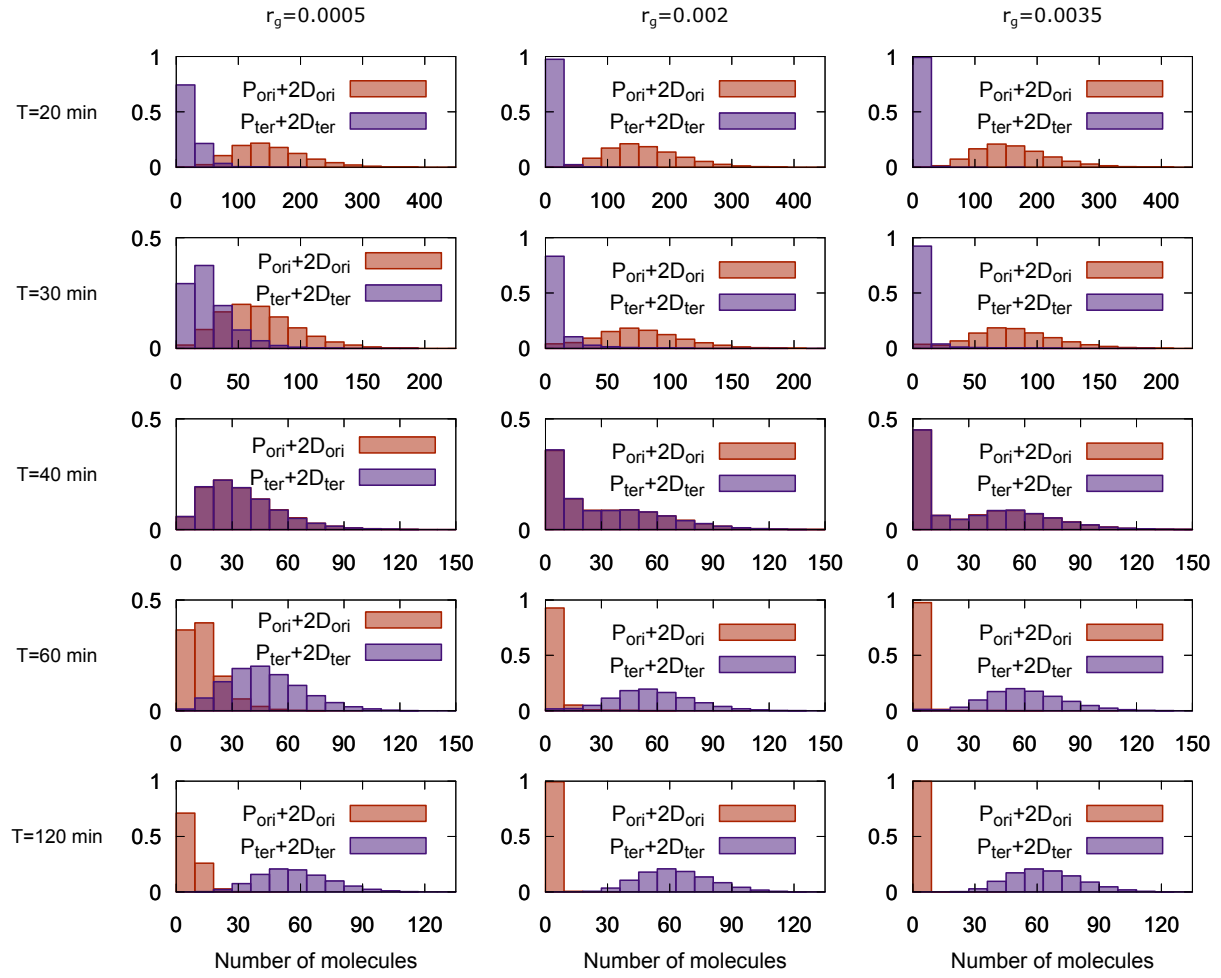

Figure S5: Stationary distributions of protein level based on stochastic simulations for different doubling times T and different levels of repression r_g .