

Additional data file 1. Correlations of eigengene based connectivity (kME) versus the gene significance for HD in the three brain tissue networks. The four modules with the highest absolute correlation with HD are shown for each network. The highly significant correlations indicate the occurrence of hub genes, i.e. genes with high absolute values for gene significance for HD and kME. cor = correlation.