

Supplementary File S1

Examples of Working Group Authors' Ties to Industry

Martin Rösli – His research has long been funded indirectly by telecommunications companies Sunrise and Swisscom, Swissgrid, and Cellnex via the Swiss Research Foundation for Electricity and Mobile Communication (FSM).

<https://www.emf.ethz.ch/en/foundation/sponsors-supporters>.

Andrew Wood – His research and laboratory was and is financially supported by telecommunications companies; and his research team includes three technical associates who are telecommunications company employees (i.e. the company pays their salaries).

Mark Elwood – He has served as an expert witness and prepared reports for telecommunications companies.

Maria Feychting – Her research has been funded by the Mobile Manufacturers Forum, the GSM Association (Interphone) and Electric Power Research Institute (EPRI). As a COSMOS study principal investigator, she has received funds from TeliaSonera, Ericsson AB, Telenor.

Further, several of the systematic review authors (Ken Karipidis, Andrew Wood, Chris Brzozek) are employees of the Australian Radiation Protection and Nuclear Safety Agency (ARPANSA), an organization closely tied to ICNIRP, sharing many of the same researchers, and which endorses ICNIRP's guidelines.