

Additional file 7: RF models mean  $R^2$  and NRMSE values when considering different response variables of normalized potential breeding sites and different groups of explanatory variables for (a) types of potential breeding sites, and (b) categories of potential breeding sites.