

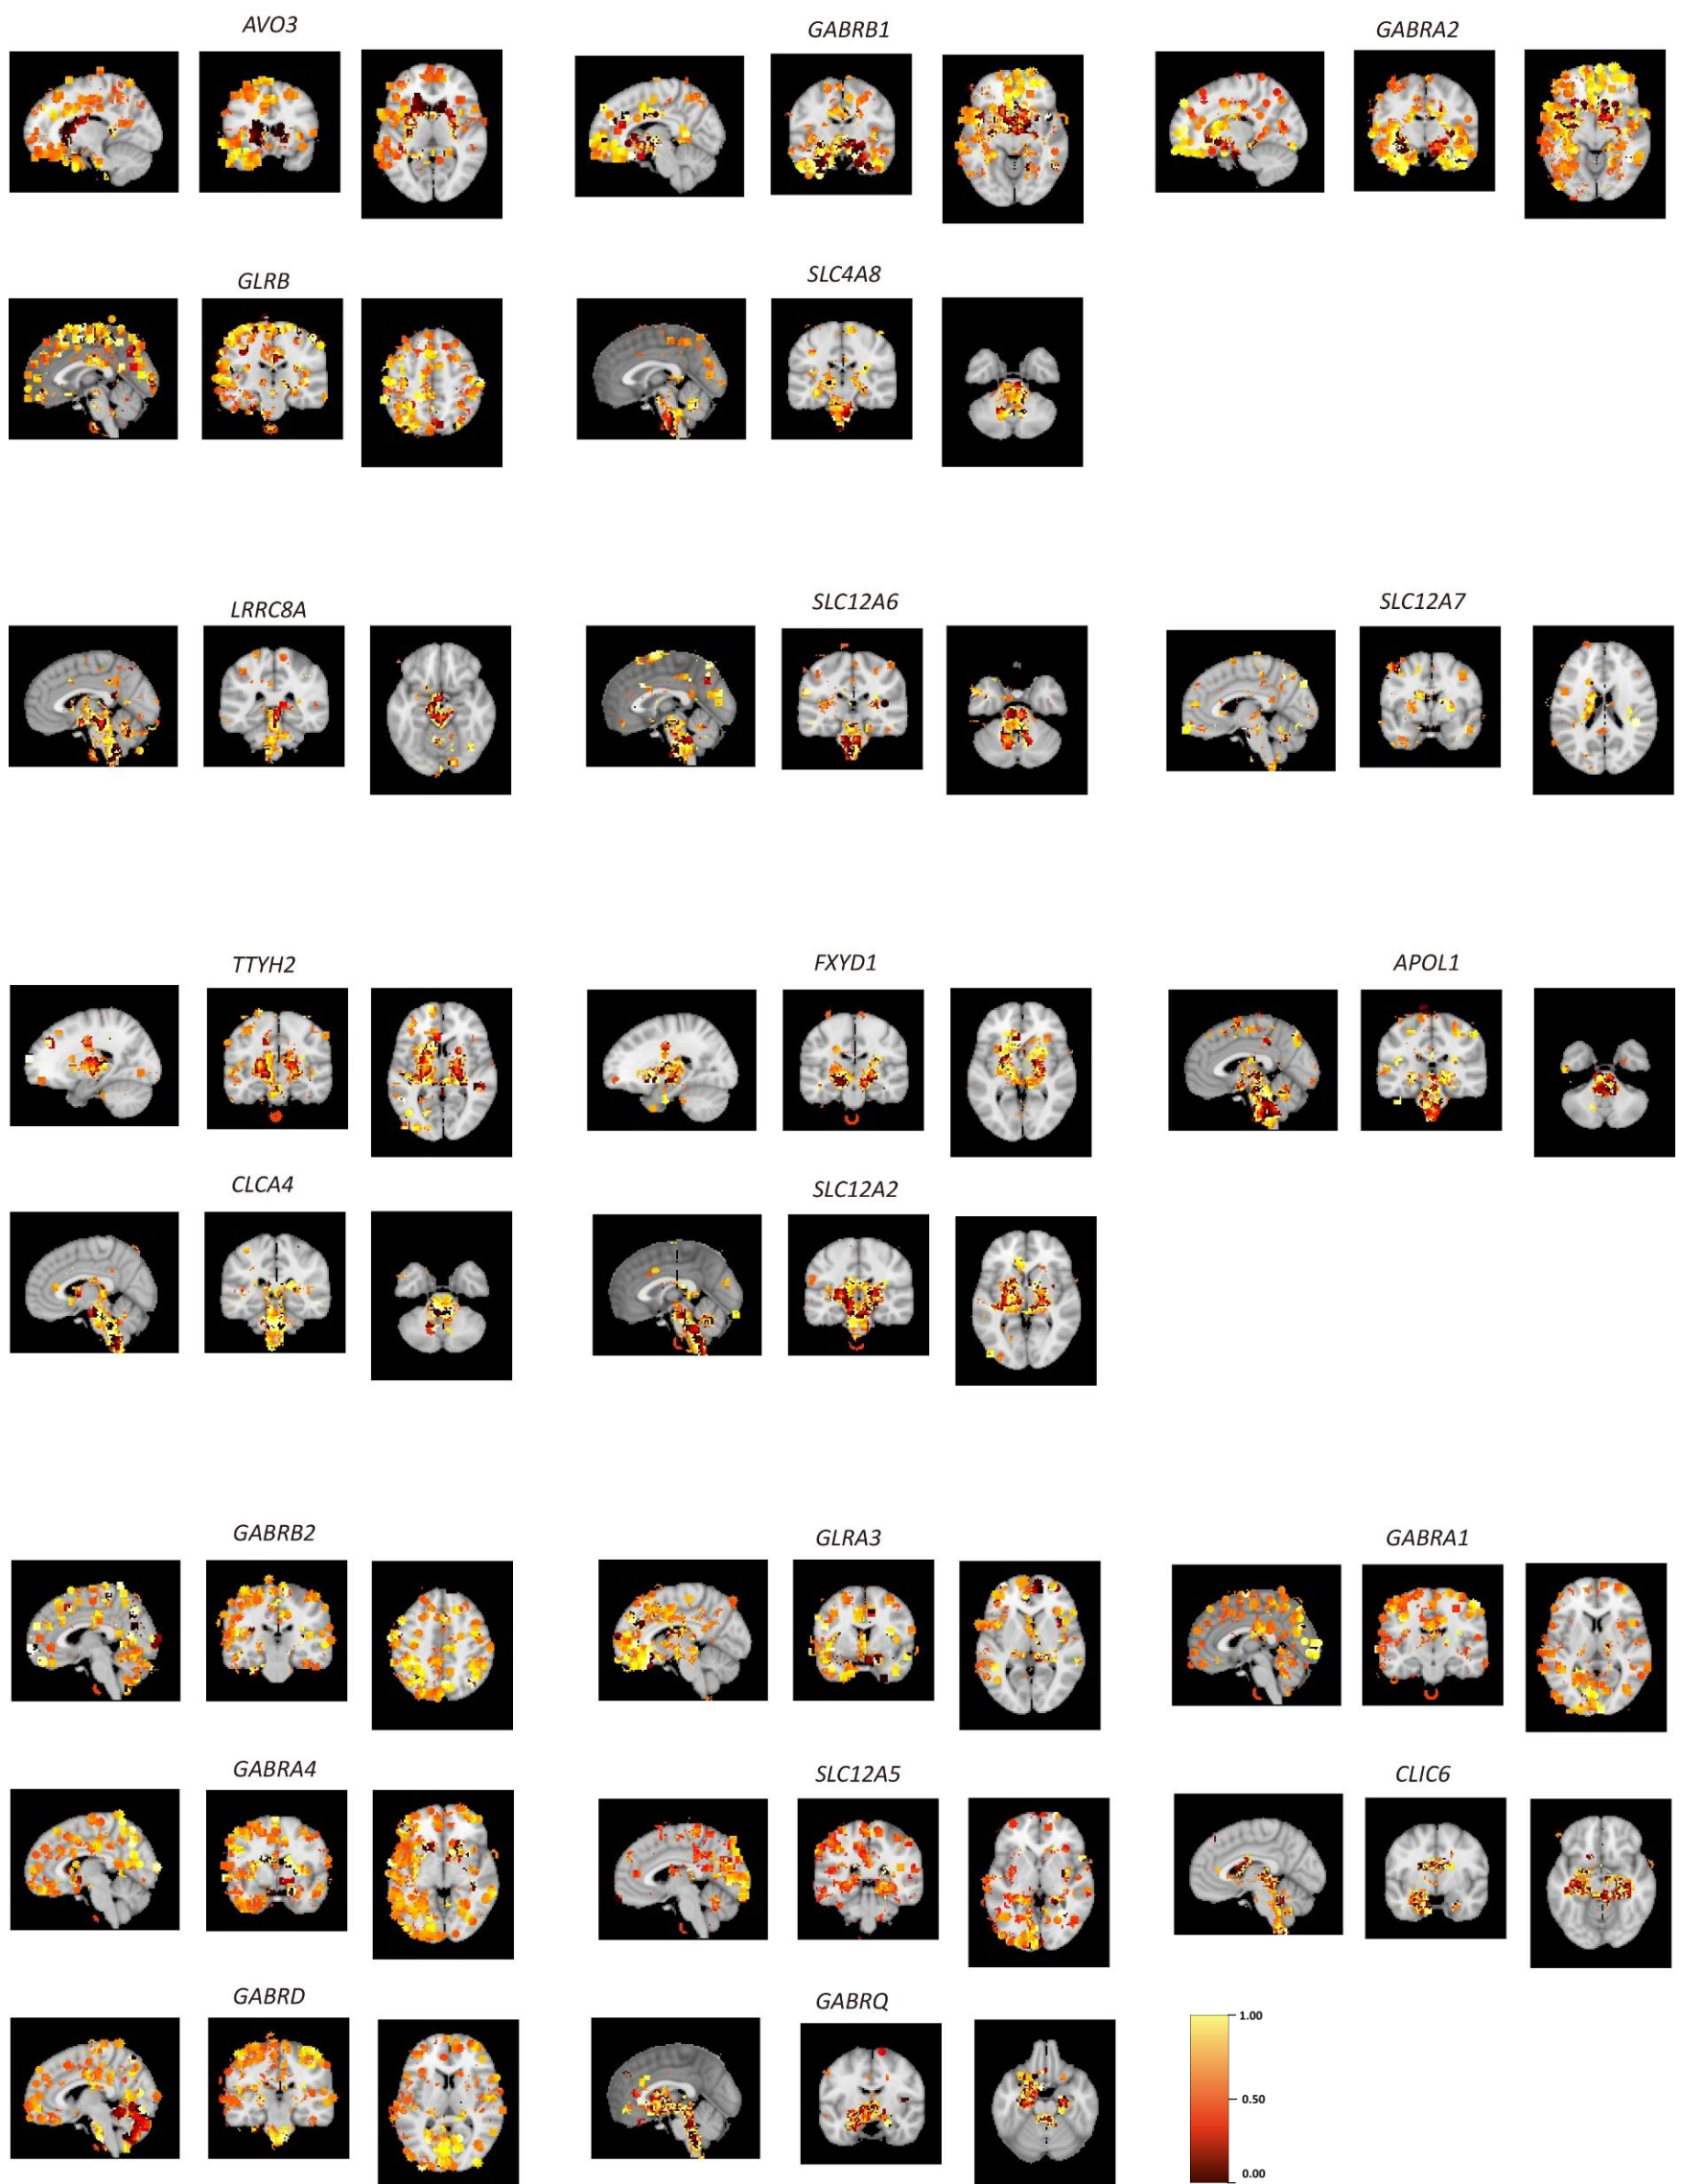

Fig.S3 Distribution of chloride-related genes in different brain regions. These figures show the brain regions with high levels of chloride-related genes. The heat map indicates a correlation; yellow indicates a relatively high correlation, while red indicates a relatively low correlation.