

Figure 2CFigure 5F*Figure 6A*Supplementary Figure 1

For Western blot, proteins were transferred electrophoretically to a full polyvinylidene fluoride membrane. And then, some membranes were cut into two parts according to different targeted protein sizes. The same membrane was placed in blue box, and the cutting area was marked with blue dotted lines. This is our original Western blot images.