

Supplementary file 5:

Figure Legend: Relationship between sensitivity and specificity for the cohort of patients with pathological FST results based on different cut-offs. The dashed line represents the cut-off needed to achieve a sensitivity of >90% while the solid line indicates the cut-off as determined by the Youden index.