

Supplementary Figure 5. Percentage of acetylated proteins in different biological and metabolic processes. The percentage is independent from protein abundance and conserved in the different condition of this study. Global proteome represents all proteins annotated in E. coli genome. Further information is detailed in Supplementary material.